INTRODUCTION.

THE heraldic Visitation of the county palatine of Lancaster in the year 1567—thirty-four years after the last similar visitation—was undertaken by William Flower, esq., the Norroy king of arms,<sup>1</sup> and, contrary to the usual method, was written in the narrative form. The original MS. is preserved in the Heralds' college, but a carefully written transcript of it is in the British museum.<sup>2</sup> The latter is in the handwriting of Robert Glover, esq., who at the age of twenty-four was appointed Portcullis, and immediately accompanied Norroy as his marshal or deputy into Lancashire; and it has sometimes been described as "Glover's Visitation," although according to the usage of the College of arms, Norroy alone had the power of visitation within this province, to which, however, was annexed the right of appointing a deputy.

Glover's MS. in the British museum forms a folio volume containing 104 pages, embracing the pedigrees of 112 families. The armorial bearings are tricked with great artistic skill and accompany each pedigree. There are also indices of the pedigrees and matches, and the whole has been executed with great care from Flower's manuscript.<sup>3</sup>

Transcripts of this visitation, being coeval duplicates, exist in the libraries of Humphrey Chetham of Manchester, and of Queen's college, Oxford, and other copies, more or less inaccurate, are in several public and private collections.

The Chetham library MS. was long supposed to be in the handwriting of William Smith, rouge dragon pursuivant, but this is an error. It is also erroneously described in the Catalogue of the library as "William Smith's Visitation of Lancashire, anno 1599;"<sup>4</sup> Smith having had no authority to visit the county, nor was any visitation of it held in that year. He was a native of Cheshire, the joint author of The Vale Royal, and died in the year 1618.

Smith's original copy, with additional and enlarged

pedigrees, is in the British museum,<sup>5</sup> and the Chetham volume seems to be an Elizabethan transcript of Smith's. It is not a very accurate copy, as some of the pedigrees are deficient in the number of descents, some are entirely wanting, and others have been interpolated.

A collation has been made of these various MSS., and in the following pages Glover's MS. is the text which has been followed, and Smith's additions and supposed emendations, whenever they occur, are included in brackets. The pedigrees not found in Glover, but which are given by Smith, include those printed on pp. 125-134. The pedigree of Whittacre (p. 132) does not relate to any Lancashire family, but may probably represent some branch claiming a remote, but not ascertained, descent from the parent stock of High Whitaker in this county.<sup>6</sup>

It may also be observed that as Smith's transcript in the British museum was made in the year 1598,<sup>7</sup> and as augmentations were made to the Chetham MS. subsequent to that period, and even long after Smith's death,<sup>8</sup> it is evident that the MS. of the latter has been subjected to the interpolations of some anonymous, and, it may be, not contemporaneous genealogist. There is an old and apparently contemporaneous copy of what is called "Glover's Visitation of Yorkshire," made in the years

1584 and 1585, in the library at Knowsley,<sup>9</sup> and although it does not include all the pedigrees recorded by Glover, it seems, as far as it extends, to be an accurate transcript, but there are found the same interpolations and subsequent additions as in the Chetham library MS., and made, not improbably, by the same hand.

Dr. Pegge had a copy of Glover's Visitation of Derbyshire "improved by Smith," but it was not a faithful reproduction of the visiting herald.<sup>10</sup>

It is not known when this visitation of the county of Lancaster commenced, how long it continued, nor where the heralds held their courts. Three hundred years ago the age of chivalry had not passed away, and a good proportion of the heads of the old feudal families answered the summons and treated the office of the king of arms with becoming respect. In 1533 only 47 of the county families were recognized and passed the scrutiny of the visitation,<sup>11</sup> whereas in 1567 we find that 112 proved their claim to heraldic rank and gentilitia distinction.

Milles, the learned antiquary, speaks of his uncle Glover's "singular method and order,"<sup>12</sup> and yet there seems to be a singular want of both in the arrangement of his genealogies. The pedigrees are not entered alphabetically, nor are they classified according either to the ecclesiastical or civil divisions of the county, nor has any method been observed in their arrangement. There is an indiscriminate enumeration of families and the earlier collaterals are generally omitted. There is also an absence of that minute information found in subsequent visitations, and which has long been considered one of the principal merits in the genealogical illustration of family succession and descent. If the heralds considered accuracy and research of importance it was necessary that they should also be so regarded by country gentlemen, many of whom in the sixteenth century, and in every other century both before and since, had no special taste for the investigation of their descent or for the elucidation of their lineage. They alone could supply authentic facts, registers and monuments, and if these were not supplied the heralds were not to blame. It is obvious however, that some contemporaneous information might have been easily obtained by these professional functionaries which would have enlarged our local family knowledge, but which they failed to secure, and which is now irretrievably lost. Baptismal, nuptial, and funeral dates are all very generally omitted by them.

The clergy at this time seem to have been totally indifferent about preserving the distinctions of rank, although among the many "hewers of wood and drawers of water," each of the old families had undoubtedly given a clerk to the church. It was an age of zeal, persecution and piety, and the more distinguished ecclesiastics, being puritans, would regard heraldry as an evidence of ostentation, and would rigidly avoid "giving heed to endless genealogies,"<sup>13</sup> some of which they probably, and not unjustly, regarded as little better than "fables." We have not one clerical pedigree recorded by Flower. The clergy had evidently forgotten that there was a period in the history of the church, when the priests, who were unable to produce an exact genealogy of their ancestors, were not permitted to exercise their function,<sup>14</sup> and it would have been a gain to local history, in many instances, had such a rule existed in that turbulent but more privileged age of the church.

At this visitation the heralds seem to have had no scruples on the subject of orthography so long as the requirements of sound were satisfied. The arbitrary variations in the mode of spelling proper names and the marvellous ingenuity in disposing of the hard-sounding names of places, have been scrupulously preserved in order that an exact copy of the visitation might be secured. And however tempting the opportunity which was sometimes presented to correct a mis-statement, to add a date, to supply an omission, or to amplify some of the pedigrees, the rule wisely laid down by the President of the CHETHAM SOCIETY—that the heralds should be allowed to give in their own style the result of their visitation of the county—has been strictly observed, so that the remark made to an editor by a celebrated critic, will, in this instance, be spared—"Your book, sir, contains much that is new, and much that is true; but unfortunately, that which is new, is not true, and that which is true, is not new."

Of these heralds a short notice may be given. William Flower was the elder son of . . . Flower of the city of York,<sup>15</sup> where he was born about the year 1498. His brother, Robert Flower, died on Saturday, the 5th March 1574, leaving issue one son, Peter Flower. His sister in half-blood, Margaret Flower, married first . . . Cavendish, and secondly, William Cade of Romford, the elder. Flower the Norroy married Helen, daughter of . . . Davyes, and had issue two sons and three daughters: 1. Gilbert; 2. Edward; 3. Elizabeth, married, first, to Robert Glover, esq., Somerset herald, and, soon after his death, secondly, to Mr. . . Woolward; 4. Jane; 5. Eleanor.<sup>16</sup> Noble, who has lately had somewhat hard measure dealt to him,<sup>17</sup> rightly says, few have been more assiduous in the duties of their profession than this Norroy.<sup>18</sup> He was made "Guysnes," upon the removal of Fulke ap Howell, at Westminster, 10 July, 28 Henry VIII.<sup>19</sup> When Calais pursuivant extraordinary, he was sent 1st April 1543 to Rouen to visit the merchants and marines who had been captured by the French, and were confined there.<sup>20</sup> On the 30th May 1544 he was appointed rouge croix, and promoted to the office of Chester herald about 37 Henry VIII.<sup>21</sup>

Sir Gilbert Dethick, garter, and William Flower, Chester herald, attended the marquess of Northampton into France, the former having an allowance of 20s. and the latter 10s. per diem for their "dyetts." The deputation from Thomas Hawley, clarencieux, to William Flower, Chester herald, constituting him his marshal and deputy, is dated at the house of the said clarencieux in Barbican, London, 1555, 1 and 2 Philip and Mary.<sup>22</sup> His patent as Norroy is dated 29th January 1562,<sup>23</sup> a commission of visitation was addressed to him on the 10th July, 6 Elizabeth. On the 9th March 1580 he obtained a patent joining Robert Glover, Somerset, his son-in-law, with himself for the office of Norroy, in which patent he is stated to be then 82 years of age,<sup>24</sup> and his age was extended to 90 years.

Flower's will is dated 14th October, 30 Elizabeth 1588, and was proved in London 22nd November following by Peter Johnson, notary public, for Helen the relict and executrix of the deceased. The effects were small and the legacies consisted chiefly of articles of furniture and wearing apparel. He gives to his son Edward his "rich coat of armes;" names his daughter Elizabeth Woolward, and her children Thomas, John, Robert, Ann and Mildred Glover; his son-in-law, James Barkstead and Helen his wife, and their son, James Barkstead; and the testator appointed his wife Helen Flower sole executrix.<sup>25</sup>

Robert Glover, son of Thomas Glover of Ashford in Kent, was born in the year 1543, and at the age of 24, his antiquarian tastes having been early developed, he was appointed Portcullis,<sup>28</sup> and immediately accompanied Flower into Lancashire. From that period (1567) to the time of his death he devoted himself assiduously to the pursuits and studies of his profession. He was very popular with the contemporary "kings," and unlike Dethick, garter, was not "unmanageable when an herald, very unsociable, insolent and tempestuous,"<sup>29</sup> but on the contrary, was regarded as a great ornament to the College of arms. The queen permitted him to travel abroad for his improvement, and he was much employed by his superiors in office. He was considered to be unrivalled for the extent and accuracy of his professional knowledge, and was recognized as an authority by the highest officials. In 1570 he was appointed Somerset herald and deputy to Flower, but did not rise to any higher office in the college.<sup>30</sup> In 1582 he attended lord Willoughby with the order of the garter to Frederick II. of Denmark.<sup>31</sup> In January 1584 he went with clarenceux, in the great suite of Henry, earl of Derby, K.G., to invest Henry III. king of France with that order.<sup>32</sup> Before the year 1586 he had assisted Camden, afterwards clarenceux, in his pedigrees for his Britannia, although Glover, with all his genealogical and other knowledge, was only, as bishop Nicolson expresses it, one of the antiquaries who "lighted their little torches at the common sun," which the "Nource of Antiquitie" must always be regarded, and it is no small honour to have been associated with such a man. of Lesley bishop of Ross in favour of Mary queen of Scots' claim to the English crown (which "Answer" Dugdale highly estimated);<sup>33</sup> his Catalogue of Northern gentry whose surnames ended in son in Ralph Thoresby's collection; and, above all, his MS. Genealogies of the nobility of the kingdom, in Latin, are proofs of his industry and ability, and are valuable contributions to English history.

In the midst of his usefulness, and in the enjoyment of a high reputation as a scholar and an antiquary, he died prematurely at the age of 45, on the 10th April 1588, and was buried in the church of St. Giles, Cripplegate, where a monument was erected in the south aisle to his memory.<sup>34</sup> He married about the year 1570 Elizabeth, daughter of William Flower, esq., Norroy, and left at his death five children<sup>35</sup> without any adequate provision having been made for their wants. There is nothing to prove that he had been a bad economist, but the emoluments of his office were small and his life had been too short to enable him to realize any thing by his hard literary labour. His nephew Mills, in a letter addressed to lord Shrewsbury a few weeks after Glover's death, observes: "My aunt has already departed the citie, to her father in the country, to recreate herself with her friends, leaving in the mean time, the studies fast locked and surely sealed, soe that till Michaelmas, the books with all other monuments of my uncle's travails,"<sup>36</sup> will be safe. The widow in a few months afterwards married Mr. . . . Woolward, and Cooke, the clarencieux, valued Glover's MS. collections at a thousand marks at the least, and the family wished the queen to become the purchaser. The nephew, Mills, was desirous that George, the sixth earl of Shrewsbury, the earl marshall, and one of the richest noblemen in the kingdom, should settle 100*l.* a year, or even half that sum, by some lease, to be granted to Glover's widow and her children, and thus to secure these literary and historical treasures, either for himself or for the use of the nation.<sup>37</sup> These applications were unsuccessful, and lord Burghley, himself a diligent genealogist,<sup>38</sup> afterwards purchased the greater part of the manuscripts.<sup>39</sup> They were, however, subsequently dispersed; but nearly the whole of them, along with Philipot's genealogical collections, were fortunately, long afterwards, purchased by the College of arms of the countess of Anglesey, in the year 1686-7, for 50*l.* The two collections are comprised in about one hundred and twenty-four volumes, and form a most valuable treasury of heraldic and biographical lore.<sup>40</sup> Glover's arms were: sable, a chevron ermine, between three crescents, argent.

Glover's great work, Nobilitas Politica vel Civilis, was published in folio (pp. 190, 1608) by his learned nephew Thomas Mills, or Milles, of Davington hall in Kent, to "revive the name and memory of Robert Glover his uncle, who had taken such uncommon pains to clear the descents and pedigrees of our kings and nobility;"<sup>41</sup> and in 1610 appeared a second portion of the same work, the result of eighteen years' labour, translated from the Latin, and known as Milles's Catalogue of Honor (folio, pp. 1130). This work was dedicated to Robert earl of Salisbury, and Henry earl of Northampton, and had the advantage of being revised for the press by Camden.<sup>42</sup>

The Twenty-seventh Report

COUNCIL OF THE CHETHAM SOCIETY,

*Read at the Annual Meeting, held, by permission of the Feoffees, in the Audit Room of Chetham's Hospital, on the

IN consequence of the interruptions experienced in some works, and the greater rapidity with which others have been carried through the press, it has become necessary to change the order of the publications as indicated in the report of the last year. The volumes for the two years 1868-9 and 1869-70 will therefore be numbered as follows:—

Vol. 75 in the series, and the first for the year 1868-9, is Lancashire Funeral Certificates, Edited by THOMAS WILLIAM KING, Esq., F.S.A., York Herald, with additions by the Vice-President of the Chetham Society. This, which is fully noticed in the report for 1868-9, has already been delivered to the members.

Vol. 76 in the series, and the second for 1868-9, is Observations and Instructions, Divine and Moral, in verse, by Robert Heywood of Heywood, co. Lanc. Edited by JAMES CROSSLEY, Esq., F.S.A., President of the Chetham Society. This work is printed for the first time from a transcript in the handwriting of one of the sons-in-law of the author, the original manuscript having in all probability been destroyed. It is written in sextains, which extend to the number of 481, and embodies the author's experiences and opinions on various subjects, but principally those of a religious character, during a long and, if an uneventful, certainly not a careless or unreflective career. Living in the latter years of Queen Elizabeth, through the whole of the reign of James the First, and dying at the commencement of the troubles of Charles the First, he had a large field for his observations to work upon, and has given the results in condensed and aphoristic verse, which occasionally may be allowed to claim a high degree of merit. There is always something to interest in the poetical productions of a country gentleman living in eventful times, and in the mansion which he has erected in his own ancestral fields, recording in verse, however homely, his deliberate conclusions on the most important subjects which can occupy the mind of man. The family of Heywood of Heywood, of which the author of the poems was the representative, and of which a detailed account and pedigree may be found in James's Iter Lancastrense edited by the Rev. T. CORSER, was an ancient family of what may be called the second class, and has experienced the fate of most of the old families of Lancashire, in losing, if it still survive in descendants, its connection with the hereditary estate. As we owe in all probability James's poetical Iter to the suggestion of Robert Heywood, who was his honoured host on that occasion, and as the connection between poets generally affords instructive matter of comparison and deduction, and frequently throws new light upon their characters, feelings and sympathies, the Council trust this volume of metrical Observations and Instructions, which adds another name to the list of the poets of Lancashire, will not be unacceptable to the members.

Vol. 77 in the series, and the third for 1868-9, is Collectanea Anglo-Poetica, pt. 4, edited by the Rev. THOMAS CORSER, M.A., F.S.A. This part of the Collectanea Anglo-Poetica carries on the alphabetical arrangement to the end of the letter C. Amongst the authors noticed are Chapman, Chaucer, Chester, Chettle, Churchyard, Chute, Cleveland, Constable, Copley, Corbet, Coryat, Cotton, Cowley, Crashaw and Crompton. The same agreeable intermixture of interesting biography, accurate bibliography, and poetical extracts in very different styles of composition and giving the great attraction of variety to the whole, which characterized the first three volumes, will be found also in this. It is a work so valuable in itself, and calculated to be so useful to collectors, bibliographers and students of early English poetry, that though the Rev. editor, in consequence of his advanced age and infirmities, does not promise to carry it on beyond the present (fourth) part, yet the Council have ventured to add a fifth in the list of the works proposed, in the hope that should—as they sincerely wish—a further term of life with the possession of the faculties which he at present enjoys be vouchsafed to Mr. CORSER, he may be induced to give the Society the benefit of the ample materials he possesses, by continuing the Collectanea Anglo-Poetica at least through the letter D, which includes many charming English poets, to whose works Mr. CORSER is known to have paid considerable attention as a collector. The curious fac-simile woodcuts in this and the preceding volumes the Council wish to state have all been furnished at the cost of the Rev. editor, and for these the thanks of the members are most especially due.

Vols. 78, 79 and 80 in the Chetham Series, and which are the first, second and third for the year 1869-70, consist of the three parts of Tracts written in the Controversy respecting the Legitimacy of Amicia, daughter of Hugh Cyvelioek, earl of Chester, A.D. 1673-1679. By Sir Peter Leycester, bart., and Sir Thomas Mainwaring, bart. Reprinted from the Collection at Peover. Edited, with an introduction, by WILLIAM BEAMONT, Esq.

To the account of this work given in the Report for 1868-9 it is scarcely necessary to make any addition, except that it has been deemed requisite, on account of the length to which it has extended, to divide the Tracts into three parts instead of two volumes, and that the delay in its appearance will be found to be amply compensated by the new engraving of the portrait of Sir Thomas Mainwaring, which (as well as the previous one designed for this work, which it greatly surpasses) has been executed at the expense of WILLIAM CUNLIFFE BROOKS, Esq., M.P., F.S.A. The postponement has been the means also of producing a further illustration, being the engraving of the palatial stable at Peover, erected by Mrs. Ellen Mainwaring, the mother of Sir Thomas Mainwaring, for which, as well as the woodcut engraving of the architrave and cornice in the introduction, the members are indebted to the excellent editor, under whose guidance they will thread with pleasure the mazes of this difficult controversy. With these illustrations, and the singularly beautiful portrait of Sir Peter Leycester, which the Society owe to the liberality of their indefatigable Honorary Secretary, R. H. WOOD, Esq., F.S.A., the work, the Council are sure, will meet with a welcome reception by the members.

Vol. 76 is ready for immediate issue, and vols. 77, 78, 79 and 80, with vol. 81, noticed in the following list, being the first for the year 1870-71, will all, it is expected, be issued during the present month.

The publications contemplated, or in progress, are:

1. Flower's Lancashire Visitation of 1567. Edited by the Rev. CANON RAINES, M.A., F.S.A., and which will form vol. 81 in the series.

2. The Register of the Manchester Free Grammar School, with Notices and Biographies of distinguished Scholars. Edited by the Rev. J. FINCH SMITH, M.A., Rector of Aldridge. Vol. 3.

11. Poem upon the Earls and Barons of Chester, in 62 octave stanzas, from an ancient MS. belonging to John Arden, Esq., of Stockport, believed to have been written by Richard Bostock of Tattenhall, gent.; a copy of which is in a MS. volume written by the Rev. John Watson, rector of Stockport, M.A., F.S.A., and from this the present transcript was taken.

12. A republication, with an introductory notice of, A true Narrative of the Proceedings in the several Suits in Law that have been between the Right Hon<sup>ble</sup> Charles Lord Gerard of Brandon, and A. Fitton, Esq., by a Lover of Truth. 4to, printed at the Hague, 1663; and the other tracts relating to the same subject.
